SFI Gender Dashboard Data Summary

These data represent an analysis of the SFI peer review process from 2011.

These data include applications made to SFI that involved a programme of research, where corresponding information on successful and declined applications are available in our Grants and Awards Management System, SESAME [see Table 1 for a list of programmes included]. This enabled an assessment of success rates since all details pertaining to applications were available.

Programmes were gradually managed through SESAME from 2011 onwards and therefore awards made under programmes which were run prior to 2011 were excluded as these data were not available in SESAME.

Furthermore, non-research funded programmes (e.g. Science Week events, SFI Discover Programme awards) and programmes where SFI provided the funding through another organisation, who had solicited and processed applications, for example, The Wellcome Trust, Royal Society, Joint Funding initiatives etc., were also excluded.

In these data, awards granted include those offered by SFI, irrespective of whether the award was accepted or declined by the applicant. This approach best represents completion of the SFI peer review processes. As such, applications that were withdrawn prior to review were excluded as in these cases, the peer review process was incomplete.

The data comprise the following fields:

Programme Name: The programme under which the award was made.

Applicant Gender: The lead applicant's self-declared gender at the time of application.

Year: Year the application was made.

Amount funded: This is the total value of the award (direct costs) when it was approved. This has been rounded to the nearest 10,000.

Amount requested: This is the total amount requested by the applicant on submission to SFI. This has been rounded to the nearest 10,000.
