>> The maximum budget for the Irish portion of a proposal is €300,000 and this is irrespective of the number of Irish partners involved in the consortium and whether the Irish partner is the coordinator or not.

2. How many applications can an Irish researcher make to the CoEN 2017 Joint Transnational Call?

>> Irish based researchers may only submit one single proposal, as Coordinator or partner, to the CoEN 2017 call. However, Irish based researchers are permitted to submit additional applications as external collaborators i.e. as a Research Group not applying for funding.

3. What are the eligible costs associated with the CoEN 2017 call?

>> Salary-related costs (Partner cannot request a salary)

Small equipment costs

Travel

Direct running costs

Dissemination and knowledge exchange costs

Overheads (overhead is calculated as 30% of the direct costs, but excluding therefrom the cost of all equipment identified in the application)

4. Can access charges be included in as eligible costs?

>> Access charges may be sought for use of infrastructure where SFI pre-approved access charge plans are in place. A listing of key contacts for SFI access charge plans is available on the SFI website. In addition, requests may be included for accessing international databases and facilities or for the commissioning of experiments in international facilities/research labs where appropriately detailed justification is provided and where the required infrastructure is not available in Ireland. Costs must be listed as a separate line item and full details should be provided in the budget justification.

5. Does this include funding for industrial partners?

>> No, funding is for Irish researchers in eligible research bodies.

9. Which areas will be supported from an Irish perspective?

>> All

10. What is the minimum number of partners required in a consortium?

- >> In order for a consortium to be eligible, it must consist of a minimum of 2 Centres of Excellence from different countries. A list of eligible CoEs can be found on the CoEN website. More than one CoE may be involved within any single country, as long as the primary cross-border criterion is met.

14. What qualifies as an independent research grant?

>> All Irish Applicants are required to have demonstrated research independence through securing at least one independent research grant as lead investigator or as co-investigator. Eligible research grants would be expected to support at least one full-time equivalent, excluding the applicant(s), and include research team costs (e.g., materials and consumables). This excludes smaller awards such as travel grants, equipment grants, postgraduate fellowships, postdoctoral fellowships, and awards of short duration (12 months or less). Laboratory fit-out/start-up funding, and awards that have not been subject to external international peer review are also excluded. Applicants may be required to provide evidence to support the validity of an award upon request. If you are uncertain regarding the eligibility of funding you have received, please contact SFI at h2020@sfi.ie.
